Those Families giue names to great Realmes, and are found in Greeke Heathen writers: placed of them as in this Table. The Kings which Da-NIEL speaketh of are joyned to their pictures. A short Chronicle is added: but the breuitie will require diligence. A.B. C.D, printed in the Pictures, are expounded ouer the Beare, and placed in the Chronicle ouer the tree.

Fit shalplease thee (gentle Reader) to accept in good part this rude and unperfect draught, which in so great shortnesse of time, and multitude of businesse I could present thee with all: Thou shalt give me incouragement at my better leasure, and some fitter oportunitie, to finish the same to thy further benefit. In the meane season my hope is, it shal not repet thee to have ben at fo smal a charge, or of so little labour as wil suffice to the diligent perusing of this short treatise. Which that thou mayest read with the more fruit: I thought good to admonish thee of these few things. First, that where in so litle roome all particular histories of the holy Bible could not be expressed, thou maiest not unfitly place the things not here fet downe, neare unto those stories that in this treatise are annexed unto them. 2. What times are certainely noted and defined in the worde, thou shalt find confirmed by places quoted to that purpose . As for others that are onely probable and conjecturall, it Shall A 2

Shall suffice, thou rest thine opinion upon the credite of mine Author, untill thou find some better argument for thy further direction. 3. The tables containing a correspondence of yeares, in the lines of the Fathers, Indges, and Kings of Indah, and Ifrael, I have for breutie fake omitted, hoping that thy diligence in comparing the times together as they are fet downe, will eafily supply that want. 4. As for the index I thought it superfluous in fo short a booke, besides that the Marget briefly containing the heads of al things, may answere thy desire in that part. 5. Where thou findest A.M. in the top of every page understad the yeare of the world, or where in the margent thou findest A.Ch. understand the yeare of our Lord. 6. In the first page Æquinochi vernum, signifieth, that time of the Spring, wherin the daies & nights are of equall length, Luminarium coniunctio, signifieth the meeting of the Sunne and Moone in her change. 7. For the title, A brief chronicle of holy Scripture, I game it, because the greatest part of the stories herein remebred, are taken out of the worde of God : get it was necessary for the continuance of the history and other complement, that some thinges should be alledged out of the Apocrypha, Iosephus, and other other Authors. 8. Where the accopt of mine Author differeth somewhat from others, that wrote before him, it neede neither to offend nor trouble thee, as derogating nothing from the truth of the storie. The reasons of his difference he hath profoundly set downe in a larger volume, written for that purpose: But because the same is farre remoned from the capacitie of the multitude, & confifteth most upon Astronomicall calculation, I thought it better to leave it wholy wnto the learned, then here to trouble thee without fruit. 9. If thou desirest to know what is the distance of the present yeare of our Lord 1589, from any particular of the ancient storie, take from 5730, the yeare of that historie, and the number remaining is that thou requireft. To know how many yeares before Christ his birth any thing hapned: take the yeare of the story thou seekest from the yeare wherin Christ was borne, and the remainder is that thou desirest. As, David was borne in the year of the world, 3039. And Christ in the yeare, 4141. take the first from the latter, there remaineth 1102: so many yeares was David borne before Christ.

10. In alleaging the two Bookes of the Kinges, I have writte 1. Reg. & 2. Reg. 11. Where places of A 3 Scripture Scripture are allcaged for the birth of many perfonages, if the same be not there expressed, underfand that it is gathered from thence by computation, which thou may st easily discerne. 12. In fo many numbers, and of so great varietie scarce any diligence could performe that nothing should be printed amisse. It may please thee therefore gentle Reader to beare with some fewe escapes, or patiently to amend where thou sindest a fault.

I have noted one or two Errata, which I pray thee to correct as followeth. And so I bid thee most hartely farewell in the Lord. This 12.
